

Kristin Elizabeth Appleby

Northern Kentucky University, 217 Landrum, Highland Heights, KY 41099
Phone 859-572-5259•E-mail Applebyk@NKU.EDU

Education

- M.A. Anthropology, University of Cincinnati, Ohio June 1998
- B.A. Anthropology, Wright State University, Dayton, Ohio June 1993

Honors and Awards

- Department of Anthropology, University of Cincinnati, University Graduate Scholarship for academic year 1994-95.
- Department of Anthropology, University of Cincinnati, University Graduate Scholarship for academic year 1995-96.

Teaching and Professional Experience

- Part-Time Faculty, Wright State University, Winter Quarter 2007 Course taught: Comparative Studies of Non-Western Cultures
- Part-Time Faculty, Wright State University, Fall Quarter 2006 Course taught: Comparative Studies of Non-Western Cultures
- Part-Time Faculty, Wright State University, Winter Quarter 2006 Course taught: Comparative Studies of Non-Western Cultures
- Part-Time Faculty, Northern Kentucky University, Spring and Fall 2007 Courses taught: World Cultures and Introduction to Archaeology
- Part-Time Faculty, Northern Kentucky University, Spring and Fall 2006 Courses taught: World Cultures and Introduction to Archaeology
- Part-Time Faculty, Northern Kentucky University, Fall 2005. Course taught: World Cultures.
- Full-Time Faculty, Northern Kentucky University, Fall 2004-Spring 2005. Courses taught: World Cultures and Introduction to Archaeology.
- Part-Time Faculty, Northern Kentucky University, Fall 2001-Spring 2004. Courses taught: World Cultures and Introduction to Archaeology.
- Participated in PBS aired film "Opening the Door West: the Story of How the Ohio Company of Associates Began the First Organized Settlement in the Old Northwest"

Territory," Produced by Shelburne Films and WOUB in conjunction with the Ohio Bicentennial, 2003.

- Staff trainer in Elizabethan history, Ohio Renaissance Festival, Summers 1999-2001.
- Completed two day short course Making the Dead Speak: Applying Archaeology to Forensic Investigation, Columbus State Community College, 1996.
- Teaching Assistant for Dr. Ann Belisari, Wright State University, Spring 1993. Course: Comparative Studies of Non-Western Cultures

Field experience

- Field School of Archaeology at the University of Cincinnati under the direction of Dr. Robert Connolly, summer 1995.
- Field School of Archaeology at Wright State University under the direction of Dr. Robert Riordan, summers of 1992 and 1993 (Undergraduate and Graduate levels).

Papers Presented

- November 1996: "From Bane to Bestseller: The Vampire's Journey from the Balkans to the Victorian World," with Thomas G. Lane, 9th Annual Graduate Student Interdisciplinary Conference, SUNY at Stony Brook, New York.
- October 1997: "The Undead: Alive and Kicking," with Thomas G. Lane, Northeast Popular Culture Association Annual Meeting, Wentworth Institute of Technology, Boston Massachusetts.
- March 2004: "Site Seeing: Archaeological Sites of the Ohio Valley," Northwest Business Exchange.
- October 2005: "Inferring Migration from Flint Raw Material: A Central Ohio Valley Adena Sample," Midwest Archaeological Conference, Dayton, Ohio.

Publications

- 1998 Pennsylvania Archaeologist: Original research used in paper "Analysis of an Obsidian Biface Fragment from a Hopewell Occupation Associated with the Fort Hill (33HI1) Hilltop Enclosure in Southern Ohio," by Bradley T. Lepper, Craig E. Skinner, and Christopher M. Stevenson.
- 1997 M.A. Thesis, Inferring Migration from Flint Raw Material, a Central Ohio Adena Sample. Dr. Kent Vickery, Thesis Chair.

Memberships

- Office of Secretary of Central Ohio Valley Archaeological Society (COVAS) 2005-2007.
- Membership in the Midwest Archaeological Council, February 2005.

References

Dr. Robert V. Riordan
Department of Anthropology
Wright State University
Anthropology

Dr. Anna Belisari
Department of Anthropology
Wright State University

Dr. Kent D. Vickery
Thesis Chairman
Department of
University of Cincinnati
Retired