

HONORS UPDATES

Weekly announcements for the NKU Honors Program

3 November 2009

Super-Priority Registration ~ Wed, Nov 4 at 10:00 am

Hold the date – Dec 9 – Honors Recognition Breakfast @ 8:00 am

Come December...Anyone presenting a Capstone – and his or her director – is invited to be honored at our first ever Recognition breakfast on Dec 9th. Medallions will be distributed and outstanding Capstone awards will be announced. The event will be held in SU 109.

What book should we read together?

The Honors Program solicits your input in choosing a timely, contemporary text that will be used next year to connect students in the Honors Community. We are particularly interested in nonfiction books that are reflective and socially relevant to today's college students. Send your title suggestions to Dr. Smith at smithe11@nku.edu by Thursday, Nov 12. Include two sentences why you recommend this book.

Be a part of NKU's Dr. Martin Luther King Commemoration Week – Jan 11-18, 2010

On Wednesday, Jan 13, Honors and the AASES Office are partnering to have passages from Dr. King's works read aloud in the Student Union. Participants will be asked to sign up for short timeslots (5 minutes). If interested, contact Rees Storm at stormr@nku.edu.

International Coffee Hour – Wed, Nov 4 11:30-1:00 pm – UC 3rd Floor Lobby

"Women as Change Agents in the Coffee Industry," featuring Margaret Swallow, Harvard MBA. This event is being co-sponsored by The Office of International Students & Scholars and The International Business Center. Free coffee and snacks will be served.

Callahan and HoHoVoCo team up – Sat, Nov 7, from 1:00-3:30 pm

The Callahan Honors Hall and the Honors House Volunteer Corps are sponsoring a service event at Lakeside – the senior citizen apartments next to Callahan Hall. We want to invite everyone in the Honors Program to come and join us!

Next week: Three Spectacular Events! Two Great Nights!

1. Honors Coffee House, Wed, Nov 11

Work up your act in preparation for the next Honors Coffee House. The VoCo will be raising funds by selling cups of delicious joe. Reserve your spot among the performers by emailing Ali Godel at godela1@nku.edu.

2. HNR 101 Peer Mentor Night, Fri, Nov 13 6:00-8:00 pm
Spooky Movie Night. White Elephant Sale. Free food! Then follow the crowd to...
3. The Second Annual Honors Night Inn, Fri Nov 13, 8:00 pm to...
Slumber Party in the Honors Lounge at Callahan Hall. It's an all-night program, so, bring a sleeping bag and stay the night. We are hoping for a great amount of Honors students attending that do not live in Callahan. If you have any ideas to make this the best Honors social event ever, please send them to Michael Farris farrism1@nku.edu.

Hold the date: Winter Break Party – Fri, Dec 11 @ 6:00 pm in the Callahan Honors Hall Lounge

Stay tuned for details!

Moby-Dick Marathon, Nov 14 & 15 from 9:00 am-9:00 pm

Join the 2009 NKU Book Connection Selection author, NKU's own Dr. Robert Wallace at Gallerie Zaum, 811 Monmouth Street, Newport to celebrate the continuing exhibition Chasing the Whale in Northern Kentucky (and the November 14, 1851, publication of Moby-Dick in New York City). Visit <http://www.doodle.com/qu8rdzyv5bhe6cpp> to sign up for a 20-minute reading slot. For more information, contact Dr. Robert Wallace at wallacer@nku.edu.

International Education Week – Nov 16-20

Movies, food, panels, and speakers. Internationalize yourself! Find a complete schedule at the Office of Education Abroad (OEA) website <http://studyabroad.nku.edu/iew.php>.

Work for GSP this summer – applications DUE Jan 11

The Governor's Scholars Program is seeking RA and Office Staff from among current college students. Qualified applicants will earn $2600, plus room and board, at one of three Kentucky college campuses – Bellarmine, Centre and Murray State.

There are two ways to apply: online at www.gsp.ky.gov/Employment.aspx or write or call:

Governor's Scholars Program
1024 Capital Center Drive, Suite 210
Frankfort, KY 40601
502 573-1618

*Honors Updates is assembled and edited by Rees Storm on Mondays.
For contributions or clarifications, contact her at 859 572-1373 or by email at stormr@nku.edu.*