

The Women

By Clare Boothe Luce

Directed by Mark Hardy

Audition Information

All roles are female. Prepare a 1 minute monologue from a modern play, 1920-1960, in standard American speech. The play is a rather vicious comedy of manners set in 1937; think Oscar Wilde meets Absolutely Fabulous. Urbane humor and a strong sense of style are vital to the piece. Look for strong, active monologues that allow you to claim the space and make an immediate impression. These women are not lambs.

Please plan to dress like a million bucks for the audition.

Regards,

Mark