PREAMBLE

The Department chair is an administrator and a member of the faculty with major responsibility for leadership of an academic department. This leadership is exercised through constructive concern for the academic performance of the department in light of goals and missions set by the disciplines, the college, and the University. The chair must be thoroughly involved with academic planning and with faculty development to ensure the continued vitality of the department.

SECTION ONE

RESPONSIBILITIES OF DEPARTMENT CHAIRS

I. Program Maintenance, Development, and Evaluation

Department Chairs will:

a. Encourage, in conjunction with the faculty and within limits set by the University and the department mission, the development and evaluation of curricula for majors and minors, and, when appropriate, general studies offerings and electives.

b. Arrange for procurement, security, inventory, and maintenance of department equipment and facilities.

c. Coordinate procurement of library materials, textbooks, audio-visual aids, computer software and other learning resources.

d. Maintain regular communication with the appropriate dean on the progress of various academic programs in the department.

II. Personnel Management

a. Faculty

The chair will:

1. Make recommendations for reappointment, tenure, promotion, and termination to the dean, following regulations in the current Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook, and the affirmative action procedures outlined in Recruitment Guidelines and other applicable university policies and procedures.

2. Recruit all new full-time and part-time faculty in accordance with procedures outlined in Recruitment Guidelines.
3. Evaluate needs for additional faculty and report the results of such evaluations to the dean along with an appropriate justification for the request for new faculty.

4. Provide leadership in the development of professional goals of the faculty and goals of the department, the college, and the University.

5. Communicate college and University policies to faculty and implement and monitor all department, college, and University policies.

6. Hear and assess faculty concerns on all University matters; present faculty concerns and problems to other members of the administration.

7. Conduct annual performance reviews/professional development interviews for all department faculty; evaluate faculty performance by measures developed with the faculty, in accordance with the Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook.

8. Encourage the development of methods of improving instruction; make opportunities available for improvement of teaching techniques; encourage experimentation in instruction.

9. Assign faculty loads in accordance with University policy; prepare course schedules, teaching assignments, and other department work schedules in consultation with the faculty; arrange work schedules for advising and registration.

10. Maintain accurate faculty personnel files.

11. Convene regular department meetings.

12. Recommend salary for faculty in accordance with the current Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook, and relevant college and department guidelines.

13. Orient new faculty to services and policies of the University and to Northern Kentucky – Greater Cincinnati.

b. Coordinator, Directors, Etc.

If the department has coordinators, directors, etc., the chair will:

1. Conduct annual performance reviews/professional development interviews.

2. Have regular meetings with coordinators, directors, etc.

3. Recommend, consistent with existing policy, terms and conditions of service for coordinators, directors, etc.

c. Staff

   The chairs will:
   1. Evaluate needs for non-faculty staff and recommend the acquisition of such personnel to the dean.
   2. Maintain efficient and professional office and secretarial operations.
   3. Conduct annual performance reviews and professional development interviews for all department staff in accordance with the requirements of the Personnel Policy and Procedures Manual.
   4. Maintain accurate staff personnel files.
   5. Recommend salary for staff in accordance with the Personnel Policy and Procedure Manual.

III. Fiscal Management

   Chairs will:
   a. Prepare budget requests in consultation with department faculty and other members of the university administration.
   b. Administer and modify budgets according to changing priorities, University policy and procedures, and applicable state and federal regulations.

IV. Responsibilities to Students

   Chairs will:
   a. Coordinate and evaluate the department’s advising program.
   b. Certify majors, minors, and areas of concentration for those graduating.
   c. Evaluate applications and implement special arrangements such as curricular variances, individualized instruction, and independent study.
   d. Ensure that proper guidance and assistance to department student clubs and organizations are forthcoming from the faculty.
   e. Gather student feedback on appropriate department matters.
   f. Disseminate information (e.g., curricular requirements for major and/or minor, employment opportunities, graduate programs, upcoming seminars) to students.
g. Inform department majors of changes in courses and curricula; notify appropriate offices of approved changes in major or other requirements.

h. Insure that faculty members are aware of the policies enunciated in the Student Code of Rights and Responsibilities, especially those sections relating to the Appeal of Academic Matters.

i. Respond to student grievances and appeals.

V. Other Responsibilities of Chairs

Chairs will:

a. Encourage and set an example of professional conduct for members of the faculty and staff.

b. Work to assure appropriate office space for faculty.

c. Attend or send a representative to meetings pertinent to the department.

d. Conduct elections or appoint department representatives to committees upon request from appropriate sources.

e. Coordinate the preparation of department copy for the Catalog, the Schedule of Classes, and other University publications.

f. Coordinate the selection of department committees.

g. Work with the Dean and University Development Office to facilitate the solicitation of donations and fund raising.

h. Maintain contact with alumni.

i. Lead program and course assessment efforts.

j. Interact with and support departmental or program level advisory boards (not all departments have these boards).

k. Mediate conflict in the department.

l. Coordinate student recruitment and orientation efforts.

m. Facilitates student placements with outside organizations.

n. Perform other duties as assigned by the Dean.

SECTION TWO

SELECTION OF CHAIRS

When a vacancy occurs in the office of department chair at Northern Kentucky University or when such a vacancy can be anticipated, it will be the responsibility of the dean, in consultation with department faculty, to recommend a replacement to the provost, according to the following procedures.

I. Position Vacancy
   Once a vacancy or an anticipated vacancy in a department chair’s position is made known, the dean will request from the provost written authorization to begin the search for a new chair. The authorization will indicate clearly whether the search may be external as well as internal. Interim chairs may apply for an open chair position with approval of the Dean as part of an interim appointment.

II. External Search
   a. Search Committee
      Once appropriate approval to fill the vacancy has been secured, the dean will instruct the department to elect a search committee composed of at least four full-time, tenured or tenure-track faculty of the department and at least one student representative. If relevant, department policies which require that all tenure-track faculty serve on department search committees will be respected. The student(s) on the search committee will be a junior or senior majoring in a discipline of the department. This student will be selected by the faculty members of the search committee. A member of the department faculty will serve as chair of the search committee. If the number of department faculty eligible for the search is fewer than four, the dean, in consultation with department faculty, will select additional faculty members from related departments in the University to bring the committee membership to the minimum number. In addition, the dean, in consultation with the faculty, may select at least one member from appropriate community practitioners or alumni. Whatever the make-up of the committee, a majority of the voting members must be faculty. The dean and department faculty will follow university guidelines to insure that the search committee membership is appropriately diverse with regard to race and gender.

   b. Position Announcement
      The Search Committee will develop a position announcement and send it to the dean’s office and the Affirmative Action office for approval. All such position announcements must list the academic rank, areas of competence, and qualifications associated with the position, must conform with the University’s affirmative action, equal opportunity guidelines, and must conform with all other applicable university policies and procedures.

c. Advertisement

In addition to its insertion in the Chronicle of Higher Education or other publications, the position announcement, accompanied by a description of the position, the department, the college, the University, and the Northern Kentucky area should be circulated, whenever advisable, to departments and deans of appropriate colleges and universities across the country. In addition, copies of the announcement must be sent to disciplinary-organization placement services and to appropriate caucuses representing women and minorities (if any), as specified by current university policy. Placement of the position announcement is to be reported to the dean and the Affirmative Action Office.

d. Candidate Qualifications

The Search Committee will require of all candidates a letter of application, a vita, and names, addresses, and phone numbers of at least five professional references.
After an initial screening by the committee, candidates may be asked to have their letters of reference sent to the committee. Telephone interviews of references and candidates may be appropriate, as may video or electronic interviews of the candidates. No candidate will be appointed to the position without providing full official transcripts of undergraduate and graduate work to the Office of the Provost. Candidates must, except in extraordinary circumstances, possess the highest degree appropriate for those who teach in his/her discipline. Searches will generally follow the procedures in use for faculty and/or administrative searches.

e. Interviews

The Search Committee will select at least three candidates for on-campus interviews. Appropriately qualified women and minorities should be given full consideration for an interview. At the conclusion of the interview, the Search Committee will report to the dean which candidates are acceptable. The dean will meet with the search committee, at which meeting the committee members may express their preferences to the dean. As always, the dean may seek consultation with the faculty of the department before making a recommendation. If the dean agrees with the committee’s recommendation, he/she will recommend a candidate to the provost. If none of the candidates is acceptable to the committee or to the dean, other candidates may be interviewed or a new search may be initiated. In no case will a candidate be recommended without an interview. Under normal circumstances, no candidate will be appointed as chair without agreement between the dean and the search committee. However, there may exist exceptional circumstances under which the dean may recommend to the provost a person not endorsed by the search committee. The dean will provide justification in writing for such action to the department faculty and to the provost.

f. Appointment

The dean will make a formal recommendation, with conditions of employment, to the provost that a candidate be employed as chair. This letter of recommendation must include the candidate’s file with the material listed in D, above. Following approval by the provost and the president, a letter of offer, with a copy to the dean and notification to the Search Committee, will be sent to the candidate. Such letter must state that the offer is contingent on approval by the Board of Regents. Upon receipt of written acceptable by the candidate, the provost will recommend to the president that the candidate be employed. Upon approval of the president’s recommendation by the Board of Regents, a formal contract will go into effect.

g. Terms of Appointment

i. A term of appointment for an academic department chair is four years. Continuing in the position from year to year within any term is contingent upon annual reviews by the department faculty and evaluation and approval by the dean.

ii. Department chairs are initially appointed for a single term (See #1.)

iii. The dean, in substantive consultation with the department, and the provost may reappoint a chair for additional terms.

iv. Re-appointment for additional terms or a portion of a term is limited to extremely rare cases and must be approved by the dean and the provost.

III. Internal Search

If the internal appointment of a chair is required by institutional constraints and the appointment is to be continuing, affirmative action procedures appropriate to internal searches will be followed. Furthermore, to insure fairness, the position announcement, candidate qualifications, interviews, and appointment will conform as closely as possible to the criteria for external searches.

IV. Acting Chairs

If a vacancy is to be filled by an acting chair, the dean, in consultation with the department faculty, will recommend to the provost a member of the NKU faculty to serve until a continuing appointment can be made. Acting chairs will serve on a semester-to-semester basis; the dean must recommend their remaining in the position until circumstances permit the appointment of a continuing chair. However, in no case will an individual remain as acting chair for more than 24 months. Should an acting chair be appointed to the permanent position following an appropriate search, time in service as acting chair will accrue as time in service as chair, provided appointments were consecutive, and provided that the assignments and performance level expectations were commensurate with those of regular chairs. If this is not the case, the chair will be advised in writing in advance of, or in conjunction with, the appointment.

SECTION THREE

TERMS OF APPOINTMENT OF CHAIRS

I. Review

After consultation with the department faculty and other appropriate persons, the dean will conduct an annual performance review based upon the duties of the chairs delineated in this handbook. Recommendations by the dean for continued appointment and salary increases will be based upon the findings articulated in the performance review. Apart from the normal review process, the dean, the chair, or a majority of the department faculty may request a formal review of a chair’s performance at any time, for the purpose of determining whether the chair should continue in the position. The procedure for this review will be written by the dean, in consultation with the chair and department faculty, prior to the review taking place. Prior to the end of a contract year, following consultation with the tenured faculty of the department and others as appropriate, a chair may be relieved of his/her duties by the dean, and the position declared vacant.

II. Teaching Load

The workload for the department chairs will be determined in consultation with the appropriate dean, taking into consideration other demands, assignments, or responsibilities, and teaching responsibilities will not normally exceed the equivalent of six credit hours per year.

III. Promotion and Tenure

a. Promotion of a chair will follow, in general, the promotion procedures outlined in the current Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook except that the department’s Reappointment, Promotion, & Tenure committee will make its recommendations directly to the Dean. While administrative service associated with the Department Chair and their department’s achievements will receive significant weight in promotion considerations, such service along cannot justify a positive case for promotion. Chairs seeking promotion should work closely with their Dean to plan their progress towards reaching this goal and find ways to reserve time to focus on scholarship.

b. If a chair is appointed from outside the university without tenure, the chair’s performance will be reviewed by the dean and the department at or near the end of the first academic year of the appointment. In fall of the chair’s second year, the dean will consult with the department and will review further the performance of the chair. The dean will then forward a recommendation regarding tenure to the provost. In the case of a positive recommendation, the chair will be granted tenure by the start of the third year in office. If tenure is denied, the chair can be continued as chair on probationary appointment, returned to the faculty in the same status, or terminated.

IV. Compensation

a. Components of Chairs’ Salaries

1. Faculty Salary Base
   This is the academic year salary at the time of appointment; it is determined for externally-appointed chairs according to their discipline, rank, and experience. The faculty salary base of chairs is subject to equity adjustments in accordance with policies designated for regular faculty salaries.

2. Twelve Month Compensation Settlement Faculty who have not served previously in administrative roles that provided an increase in salary with a return to faculty status at 85% of salary, will have their salary calculated as 33 percent of the faculty salary (based on academic year obligation for regular) and added to the salary base. The fiscal year administrative salary for faculty who have served previously in administrative positions and returned to faculty status at 85% of salary will be negotiated and will not exceed 25% of the faculty salary base added to the faculty salary base. Return to faculty status would be calculated as the faculty base prior to the addition of 25% plus salary increases during the period of the administrative appointment.

3. Administrative Stipends Chairs will receive a standard chair stipend amount that will be clearly defined on each Chair’s appointment form. The current amount is $3,000. This amount is separate from the 12-month salary and may not be included for annual raise calculations. The $3,000 stipend is lost upon relinquishing the chairs’ position.

b. Calculation of Salary Increases Annual raises shall be computed on a chair’s 9-month salary plus 33 percent as determined by the appropriate college dean in light of performance.

c. Reversion to Regular Faculty Status
V. Annual Leave

a. Annual leave begins accruing on a pay period basis from the initial date of appointment to the position of department chair and will be credited on or before the first day following completion of each month of employment. The annual accrual allowance for a department chair is 25 days.

b. Annual leave will continue to accrue each pay period until the accrual maximum has been reached. The accrual maximum for a department chair is 20 days. No further accrual of the 25-day annual allowance will be made until the department chair utilizes annual leave and the annual leave is less than 20 days.
c. Accrued vacation days for department chairs, using the 20-day accrual maximum, will automatically carry into the next fiscal year.
d. Annual leaves must be approved in advance by the department chair’s dean. A college dean may, in the best interest of the university, specify periods during which department chairs may not take annual leave.

VI. Leave for Chairs

a. Purpose
Leaves are granted to chairs by Northern Kentucky University to promote their professional growth and development and to enhance the management of the University. Leaves may be granted for purposes including, but not necessarily limited to, the following:

1. Formal course work, independent study or general professional development in a clearly defined program related to one’s current or future administrative role at Northern Kentucky University.
2. Community service or institutional research or service.
3. Relevant professional experience deemed beneficial to the administration of the University.
4. Such other activities as may be approved by the University.

b. Eligibility
Chairs may apply for leave, subject to the following conditions:

1. After four years of employment as a chair, a leave of six months at full salary or twelve months at half salary may be requested.
2. After eight years, a second leave may be requested.

c. Leave Conditions
1. Chairs granted leave must make suitable advance arrangements to have all regular job responsibilities fulfilled during the leave. The University will allocate funds to cover the cost of the leave, including the cost of replacement personnel.
2. Chairs on leave will be eligible for all salary increases and opportunities for promotion as if they had remained in residence.

3. For purposes of computing years of service, all time spent on leave will be considered as full-time employment.

4. Chairs on leave will maintain their participation in and eligibility for all fringe benefit programs provided or available at the inception of the leave, except as may be contractually prohibited by insurance carriers or other underwriters. The University will also continue its normal contributions to such programs for the duration of the leave.

5. Except when approved by the Provost, President, and Board of Regents, recipients of administrative leaves must agree to return to the University for a minimum of one year following the leave, or to repay the University the amount of the leave stipend.

6. The recipient of a leave must file a report describing the activities and accomplishments during the leave and their application to the recipient’s responsibilities at Northern Kentucky University. This report will be due within three months after return from leave and will be filed with the appropriate dean.

VII. Procedures and Evaluation for Leaves

Chairs seeking leave must submit a request to the provost six months in advance of the date on which the leave is to begin. The request must include a statement of the reason for the leave, a description of the efforts or project to be undertaken, the time period of the requested leave, and a current vita. The request must also be accompanied by approval of the appropriate dean. Upon approval by the provost, the request will be forwarded to the president. Upon presidential approval, the request will be forwarded to the Board of Regents for final action.

In evaluation of an application, the following factors will be considered:

1. The value of the project to the chair, to the chair’s department, and to the University.

2. The seniority of the applicant and the length of service in the applicant’s present administrative position, as well as the applicant’s overall performance history.
3. Whether the best interests of the University can be reasonably served in the temporary absence of the chair.

   The president will notify the applicant of the final determination of the request within thirty days after action by the Board of Regents.

VIII. Sabbatical Leave

   As holders of faculty rank, chairs are fully eligible for sabbatical leaves so long as they meet the qualifications specified in the current Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook. Likewise, all procedures, conditions and requirements of such leaves for faculty (as outlined in the Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook) apply to sabbaticals requested, approved or taken by chairs.

IX. Re-entry Leave

   After a term of four or more years, the chair will be provided with a special one-semester re-entry leave with full salary based on the academic year salary upon return to faculty status or an academic year leave with half salary based on the academic year salary (and, in either case, full benefits) to facilitate re-entry into a teaching position, provided that neither a chair’s leave (Section 3, VI) nor a sabbatical leave has been taken during the previous four years. Chairs returning to faculty may also apply for a sabbatical leave based on the criteria and process outlined in the Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook.

SECTION FOUR

DEPARTMENT COORDINATORS

Upon approval of the dean and in consultation with department faculty, chairs may appoint coordinators, directors, or others to whom certain specific administrative duties of the chair may be assigned. The duties of these individuals and their relationship to the chair should be contained in a written document for each such appointment.

SECTION FIVE

LIABILITY

Article IV of the By-Laws of the Board of Regents of Northern Kentucky University, Revised August 13, 1992, and any revisions to the Board of Regents By-Laws, describes the conditions for legal defense of all Regents, officers, administrators, faculty, and staff. The extant Article IV and its successors are hereby incorporated into this handbook as Attachment I.

SECTION SIX
COUNCIL OF CHAIRS

The Council of Chairs consists of Chairs and acting Chairs. It meets several times each semester to discuss matters of academic importance and matters of common concern.

SECTION SEVEN
FACULTY HANDBOOK

In all matters regarding a chair’s status as a faculty member which are not addressed in this Handbook, the Faculty Policies and Procedures Handbook will apply.

SECTION EIGHT
AMENDMENTS TO THE HANDBOOK

Amendments to the Chair’s Handbook may be proposed by a department chair, by a dean, by the Provost, or by the President. The proposed amendment must be in writing and must be accompanied by a rationale for the change; it must point out all sections of this handbook that would be altered or deleted if the amendment were to be adopted. The proposed amendment and supporting documentation must be simultaneously presented to the Council of Chairs and to the Provost for the purpose of initiating the amendment process.

The Council of Chairs may refer the proposal to a committee, which shall report its recommendation to the Council of Chairs and the Provost. Both the Council of Chairs and the Provost, prior to action by the Board of Regents, must review the proposed amendments to this handbook. The Council of Chairs will be given a minimum of 60 days to conduct its review and evaluate any proposed changes. The Council of Chairs may elect to submit a statement of support or nonsupport to accompany the amendment to the Board of Regents. Normally, amendments to this handbook will be submitted to the Board of Regents at its regular scheduled spring meeting and will take effect on July 1st for the next academic year. No amendment to this handbook shall be retroactive unless otherwise stated in the amendment and approved by the Board of Regents.

ARTICLE IV

A. The Board of Regents hereby adopts in its entirety for the benefit of all Regents, officers (past, present and future), administrators, faculty, staff and designated volunteers, and their heirs, executors and administrators (hereinafter, the "class"), Kentucky Revised Statute 271B.8-500, et.seq. and its amendments or replacements, on the indemnification of the Class as if the terms of said statute were herein specifically set out. It is the purpose of this By-law to provide that any member of the Class be afforded a legal defense and indemnification for any acts or actions taken in good faith and within the scope of his/her official duties while on the official business of the University.

In the absence of commercial insurance coverage secured by the University, the Class shall be indemnified and be held harmless from and against all civil liabilities, including judgments, decrees, fines, penalties, expenses, fees, amounts paid in settlement or any other costs, losses (including but not limited to attorney's fees and court costs) not otherwise covered by the insurance coverage maintained by the University and arising or resulting from or in connection or association with, any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding (whether civil, administrative, investigatory or otherwise) and any appeals related thereto, under which said indemnified persons are parties or participants because of their actions or omissions performed in good faith and in any capacity during the course and in the scope of their employment on behalf of the University, whether incurred before or after the adoption of these Bylaws, unless they are finally adjudicated to be liable for willful, wanton or malicious conduct or criminal conduct as defined by law or regulation of any state or national government. Indemnification must conform with state and federal statutes and regulations.

All requests for indemnification must be submitted in writing to the University Legal Counsel. This must occur within five (5) calendar days of receipt of any court documents related to a claim against a member of the Class, or within thirty (30) calendar days of actual notice, verbal or written, of any assertion of a claim against a member of the class. The administration is authorized to promulgate procedures that conform with this indemnification and defense policy.
