Introduction

Clinical experiences is the capstone in Northern Kentucky University's certification program. The degree to which a teacher candidate is perceived as successful in clinical experiences has a crucial effect, not only in initial employment in education, but in the probability for future success as a teacher. Clinical experiences may be the most important component of a pre-service teacher preparation program.

The College of Education and Human Services at NKU attempts to provide the student with the best possible clinical practice experience. Each candidate has successfully completed numerous field experiences prior to the final clinical experience. The candidates are assigned to local schools in diverse situations where they can demonstrate their knowledge, professional skills, and dispositions in a real situation under the direction of qualified P-12 clinical educators, recommended by appropriate school officials, who work closely with our university clinical educators.

The purpose of this guide is to provide an overview of the policies, procedures, roles, and responsibilities of all partners. This includes the P-12 clinical educator, the university clinical educator, and the teacher candidate. These roles are crucial and much appreciated as each person provides leadership and service during the clinical experience; all three of these people help form a professional partnership during the clinical experiences semester.

We believe our teacher education program provides teacher candidates with the requisite skills to ensure a quality educational experience for all children. As a result, we believe new teachers graduating from our programs will be successful as they embark on their career.

On behalf of the entire Department of Teacher Education, COEHS Chairs, and Deans, we congratulate each teacher candidate. We also extend a special thank you to our P-12 partners for their time and expertise in mentoring our candidates. It is with warm regards that we send our teacher candidates to begin this final clinical experience program in the teacher preparation program. They will be placed in a position to greatly impact the growth of all students they encounter on the road to becoming a successful teacher.

CLINICAL EXPERIENCES TERMINOLOGY

Director of Clinical Experiences: The university representative who coordinates the clinical experiences program for all areas of teacher preparation. The Director acts as a liaison officer between the university and school.

Teacher Candidate: A qualified university student who has an opportunity to observe and teach with a cooperating teacher. The teacher candidate gradually assumes classroom responsibility with a group of learners for an extended period of time during clinical experiences.

P-12 Clinical Educator (Cooperating Teacher): Certified classroom teacher of record who teaches children or adolescents and also supervises teacher candidates during the professional semesters. P-12 clinical educator must be employed by the school districts as the teacher of record.

University Clinical Educator (University Supervisor): The university representative is responsible for supervising a teacher candidate or a group of teacher candidates and acts as a liaison officer between the teacher candidate, P-12 clinical educator, and Director of Clinical Experiences.

Part I: Roles and Responsibilities

Teacher candidates have been provided excellent guidance and preparation from faculty, P-12 clinical educators, and university clinical educators. The purpose of Part I: Roles and Responsibilities is to provide the necessary structure and assistance for successful clinical experience.

Part I will provide information and guidelines for the:

1. Director of Clinical Experiences
2. Teacher Candidate
3. P-12 Clinical Educator (Cooperating Teacher)
4. University Clinical Educator (University Supervisor)

TEACHER CANDIDATE ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Teacher Candidates should represent Northern Kentucky University in a positive manner, while serving as a guest in a clinical experience assignment. This includes demonstrating the performances, integrity, character, dispositions, attitudes and responsibilities of a professional. Candidates must demonstrate behavior and attitudes in accordance with the College of Education and Human Services' Code of Ethics (Appendix C) and the KYEPSB Code of Ethics (Appendix D) signed by all students upon admission to the teacher education program

The teacher candidate must demonstrate appropriate personal conduct consistent with professional behavior. This includes accepting constructive criticism, being present and on time, demonstrating appropriate behaviors in dealing with conflict, and developing appropriate relationships with students, parents, faculty or supervisors. Professional conduct can also be extended to personal dress, speech, and written communications (especially emails and texting).

The teacher candidate must demonstrate respect for all students, parents, colleagues, supervisors and faculty. This includes trying to understand and value differences and similarities in other people. Their conduct reflects themselves and NKU. This experience is not intended to create a polished teacher, but to enable a student to demonstrate satisfactory progress towards meeting the Kentucky Teacher Standards (Appendix B) 1st year profession ready teachers, in order to be employed as an intern teacher.

The NKU Teacher Candidate's responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

1. Satisfactorily completing all assignments associated with the clinical experiences. Meeting all responsibilities promptly and displaying a willingness to accept additional responsibilities.
2. Minimizing other responsibilities during clinical experiences.
3. Seeking constructive criticism from both the P-12 clinical educator and the university clinical educator, and utilizing their suggestions for improvement.
4. Seeking assistance from the university clinical educator as early as possible if problems arise within the placement and cannot be resolved through the P-12 clinical educator.
5. Accessing email on a regular basis, outside of class times, and communicating with university clinical educators, P-12 clinical educators, and the Director of Clinical Experiences in a timely manner. It is the responsibility of the teacher candidate to let the Director of Clinical Experiences know if he/she is not receiving regular emails from the university clinical educator and P-12 clinical educator.
6. Completing all surveys, including evaluation of the education program, evaluation of the P-12 clinical educator, evaluation of the university clinical educator, and all surveys sent from the College of Education and Human Services, and Northern Kentucky University.
7. Maintaining a professional Foliotek portfolio and presenting a Foliotek portfolio for evaluation at the required time. All requirements must be met in 3 or fewer attempts using the Foliotek rubric.
8. Being present each day, according to the NKU semester calendar. All absences must be reported to both the P-12 clinical educator and the university clinical educator as early in the morning as requested by the P-12 clinical educator and the university clinical educator.
9. Keeping accurate records on a time log of absences and tardies, with signatures of P-12 clinical educators and university clinical educators.
10. Confirming all scheduled observations and conferences with the university clinical educator and the P-12 clinical educator.

While in the School Placement:

1. Knowing and adhering to all school rules, policies, and procedures.
2. Communicating with school personnel in a professional, tactful manner
3. Conforming to dress and behavior requirements consistent with school and community standards.
4. Exhibiting ethics and confidentiality concerning students and professional colleagues.
5. Becoming familiar with school personnel and their functions, as well as the physical plant.
6. Establishing rapport with students and establishing a teacher-student relationship.
7. Participating in parent conferences, faculty meetings, professional days, and other extracurricular activities with the exception of seminar days.

9. Establishing reasonable standards of conduct in the classroom. Remember that students are required to be in school by law. Discipline is the key to successful teaching and maintaining respect.
10. Establishing acceptable standards of performance. Each student is different from every other. Expectations for them should be equally as varied.
11. Expecting to have some personal failings and inadequacies. To recognize them and deal with them in a constructive and rational manner is the sign of a healthy ego.
12. Expressing interest in the non-classroom interests and activities of the students. For them, school is a great deal more than participating in the scheduled classroom activities.
13. Being constantly aware of the influence on the students. Treat them with compassion and concern. Never forget that there are others who love them and care a great deal for what happens to them.
14. Assuming full responsibility for all materials borrowed from the school district, university, or other sources.
15. Presenting detailed lesson plans, following the KTIP format.
16. Promoting a positive resolution to all discipline problems.
17. Never leaving students unattended.
18. Asking questions, seeking help, volunteering to help. There is always something to do in a classroom.
19. Sending thank you notes.

EVALUATING THE P-12 CLINICAL EDUCATOR AND UNIVERSITY CLINICAL EDUCATOR

The teacher candidate will have an opportunity to assess the effectiveness of the university clinical educator and the P-12 clinical educator(s) at the end of each placement period. The P-12 clinical educator will have the opportunity to evaluate the university clinical educator and the program. The university clinical educator also has the opportunity to evaluate the P-12 clinical educator. The data collected from these evaluations are used to assist in improving the program. All evaluations will be online surveys. Links to these surveys will be sent to the teacher candidates, P-12 clinical educators, and university clinical educators via email from the Director of Clinical Experiences in November and April.

If a problem arises between the teacher candidate and the P-12 clinical educator, the university clinical educator should be contacted. The university clinical educator will discuss the problem with all concerned parties and try to reach a satisfactory resolution. If the problem cannot be resolved by the university clinical educator, the Director of Clinical Experience will be consulted. The Chair of Teacher Education and/or the Associate Dean may also be contacted by the Director to report the possibility of a student appeal if the assignment is terminated.

P-12 CLINICAL EDUCATORS ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The primary responsibility of the P-12 clinical educator is the well-being of the pupils they are assigned. The decision to accept a teacher candidate will have an important effect on these pupils since the P-12 clinical educator will have a teacher candidate in his/her classroom. The performance of the teacher candidate can help impact the successful school experience for the pupils in the classroom.

The P-12 clinical educator's responsibilities include:

1. Completing co-teaching training and supervision assessment.
2. Becoming acquainted with the background, special interests, and educational experiences of the teacher candidate.
3. Preparing the class members in advance so they will view the teacher candidate as a co-teacher whose decisions will be supported by the teacher.
4. Orienting the teacher candidate to school and classroom procedures and policies.
5. Making the teacher candidate feel useful, comfortable, and an integral part of the school staff through planning initial activities.
6. Providing the teacher candidate with instructional materials, access to student records, and appropriate audiovisual equipment.
7. Co-planning and co-teaching of lesson plans, while conferring daily or at least weekly to analyze performance.
8. Observing the teacher candidate's lessons and conferring at least weekly to analyze performance.
9. Submitting midterm and final evaluations on Foliotek.
10. Assisting the teacher candidate with the Teacher Work Sample (1st 8 weeks) and Leadership Project (2nd 8 weeks), even though the university clinical educator will orchestrate (ID group, subject, period of the day, length of lesson, etc.).
11. Working with the university clinical educator to ensure consistency in evaluations.
12. Observing and evaluation one full lesson that is observed and evaluated by the university clinical educator.
13. Evaluating the university clinical educator and university program.
14. Contacting the university clinical educator prior to the midterm report if there are any concerns.
15. Utilizing technology for student improvement.
16. Making the teacher candidate feel that he/she is a junior partner in the education enterprise. He/she should feel that he/she is an important part of the class and not an outside visitor. Seek his/her opinions and advice with regard to the students and class activities.
17. Encouraging pupils to consult the teacher candidate concerning their class work. The pupils' acceptance of the teacher candidate depends upon the P-12 clinical educator's ability to establish his/her authority and legitimacy in the classroom.
18. Allowing the teacher candidate to try things his/her own way if he/she shows originality and creativity.

19. Giving constructive feedback. Good supervisory practice always assumes that the goal of supervision is improvement of instruction.
20. Being generous with praise. Although the results of research in education are frequently contradictory, near unanimity exists on the effectiveness of positive reinforcement as it relates to pupil motivation.
21. Encouraging the student to become objectively self-critical. Smugness and self-satisfaction inhibit the desirable process of continuing professional growth.
22. Requiring teacher candidate to have written lesson plans. Go over these lesson plans with the teacher candidate, especially in the first few weeks of clinical experiences.
23. Setting aside a specific time for conferences with the teacher candidate to review his/her progress.
24. Giving the teacher candidate some teaching responsibilities in the first few days of clinical experience.
25. Requirements in 16 KAR 5:040—Admission, placement, and supervision in student teaching (Appendix A).

Teacher candidates shall not be permitted to assume full responsibility for a class or classes without the supervision of a certified teacher of record regularly employed by the school district. Any prolonged illness or absence of a P-12 clinical educator shall be reported to the university clinical educator. In the event that the P-12 clinical educator is unable to perform supervisory duties, the Director of Clinical Experiences will automatically terminate the assignment in that classroom and will:

- a. defer and extend the assignment at that school, or;
- b. assign the teacher candidate to another cooperating teacher in that school, or;
- c. reassign the teacher candidate to another school.

Under no circumstances may the teacher candidate serve as a substitute teacher. (See Legal Status of Student Teachers on page 18.)

HONORARIUM

Northern Kentucky University gives each Kentucky P-12 clinical educator a small honorarium for participating in the program. The Kentucky P-12 clinical educators will also receive some professional awards as a result of sharing their expertise and in guiding young teachers. A tuition waiver from Kentucky is also available to P-12 clinical educators (Appendix G). Please also refer to the clinical experiences website for the link to the tuition waiver application and instructions.

Ohio teachers should reference the Ohio Ethics Commission Advisory Opinion No. 2011-05: Compensation for teachers serving as student teacher mentors.

UNIVERSITY CLINICAL EDUCATORS ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

A university clinical educator is assigned by the university to work with teacher candidates and P-12 clinical educators during the clinical experiences semester. The university clinical educator acts as a liaison with the school and the university. University clinical educators are evaluated by the teacher candidate at the end of the semester, and by the P-12 clinical educator at the end of the final semester assigned.

Northern Kentucky University clinical educators utilize a version of the Kentucky Teacher Internship Observation form, an instrument designed to measure all 10 of the Kentucky Teacher Standards (Appendix B).

All Northern Kentucky University clinical educators have completed the internship training and are qualified to assess the progress of teacher candidates utilizing the observation instrument and lesson plan format.

The university clinical educator's responsibilities include:

1. Completing co-teaching training, supervision assessment, and all state mandated training requirements.
2. Becoming familiar with the background of each teacher candidate.
3. Helping teacher candidates, P-12 clinical educators, and school administrators understand the clinical experiences program through detailed orientation.
4. Visiting and observing with the teacher candidate and evaluating each performance as directed.
5. Conferencing with the teacher candidate and P-12 clinical educator after each of the formal observation visits to discuss the progress and performance of the teacher candidate.
6. Evaluating the student's Foliotek within 48 hours following each observation.
7. Serving as an intermediary to solve problems arising between the teacher candidate and the P-12 clinical educator.
8. Contacting the Director by the 4th week if there are any concerns.
9. Completing all 2nd 8 week, final evaluations, the TWS evaluation, and Leadership project in Foliotek prior to the due date deadline given each semester.
10. The university clinical educator has the ultimate responsibility for submission of the grade (pass/fail) to the Director, since she/he is an employee of the University.
11. Requirements in 16 KAR 5:040—Admission, placement, and supervision in student teaching (Appendix A).

Part II: Policies and Procedures

CLINICAL EXPERIENCES

Clinical practice provides education teacher candidates an opportunity to acquire an understanding of the teaching process through a gradual induction to instructional responsibility. At NKU, clinical experience consists of 16 weeks (80 days) of full-time experiences in a local school, under the direction of a P-12 clinical educator, university clinical educator, and school principal. It is the responsibility of the teacher candidate to read the handbook, discuss the highlights and tabs at the initial “Meet the University Clinical Educator” seminar, and consult with the university clinical educator concerning spring vacations, holidays, or any questions concerning the length of time at one placement.

The attendance policy will require daily sign-in at the clinical experience placement. Specific professional development days will be included in the 80 days, and this information will vary from fall to spring semesters. Teacher candidates will be required to upload on FolioTek their first eight-week attendance sign-in sheet at the end of the 8th week of transition (or week nine), and at the end of clinical experience, prior to grades being posted.

Teacher candidates are expected to be punctual and in attendance for the entire school day, every day, as indicated by the clinical experiences calendar, which is updated and distributed at the beginning of each semester. All meetings, conferences, and school-related activities, as deemed appropriate by the P-12 clinical educator, should be attended. Teacher candidates are expected to observe the P-12 clinical educator’s daily schedule.

If excessive days are missed due to inclement weather, teacher candidates will be expected to attend school on those days designated as make-up days by the school system in which they are completing the clinical experience. All teacher candidates will follow state mandates concerning inclement weather, which are subject to change from year to year.

When the teacher candidate must be absent for valid reasons, the P-12 clinical educator must be notified before the beginning of the school day. The university clinical educator should also be notified as soon as possible. Any unexcused absence or tardy may lead to an immediate dismissal from clinical experience. Excessive absences or tardies (as determined by the Director), although excused, may result in an incomplete or failing grade.

Teacher candidates from art, physical education, music, IECE, elementary, middle grades, and special education have two eight-week placements. Secondary students and MAT students with one middle school or high school content have one sixteen-week placement. During this period of time, students apply the skills and knowledge learned in our teacher education program in a real classroom. They practice the skills of planning daily lessons, extended units, classroom management, and evaluative procedures. They also learn a variety of teaching techniques and methodologies and participate in the full life of school.

While developing an effective and reflective teaching style, teacher candidates are also learners. A broad-based experience working with a variety of students, age groups, curricula, instructional materials, and professional staff members, should prepare teacher candidates to assume full teaching responsibilities of their own.

TEACHER CANDIDATE PLACEMENT ASSIGNMENT POLICY

1. The assignment of a teacher candidate is made by the Director of Clinical Experiences and the local school administrator. Candidates are not allowed to contact schools and teachers independently and/or make arrangements for an assignment. Principals make the final recommendation and decisions concerning placement.
2. Preference of the teacher candidate concerning the school system is given consideration in the assignment process within a 50-mile radius and after a review of the diverse field experiences the student has completed.
3. Teacher candidates will not be placed in a school:
 - they attended
 - where they have relatives enrolled/employed
 - where they are personally acquainted with faculty and/or staff
 - where they have been employed as a substitute, aide, coach, bus driver, etc.
 - with a P-12 clinical educator from previous practica

The principal will be asked to sign the assignment request verifying that none of the above applies to the prospective teacher candidate.
5. All clinical experience assignments are full-day assignments unless special arrangements are made with the Director of Clinical Experiences and the school at the time of application.
 - a. Art: eight weeks in two different grade levels (elementary, middle grades or secondary)
 - b. Elementary: eight weeks in two placements (one in primary, one in grades 4 or 5)
 - c. IECE: eight weeks in two placements (one in kindergarten, one in a pre-school)
 - d. Middle Grades: eight weeks in each of the two teaching fields
 - e. Music – eight weeks in two different grade levels (elementary, middle grades or secondary)
 - f. Physical Education & Health: eight weeks in two different grade levels (elementary & secondary)
 - g. Secondary: sixteen weeks in certification subject area
 - h. Special Education: eight weeks in two placements (K-12, divided into two blocks for certification purposes)
6. Because of the importance of the clinical experience and time commitments involved, no courses may be taken concurrent with clinical experiences. If a teacher candidate has extenuating circumstances, petitions to carry a course concurrent with clinical experiences are limited to a three (3) hour class, and must be filed in advance with the Director of Clinical Experiences, and approved by the Associate Dean. If this is a concern, teacher candidates should be proactive in obtaining permission and not assume that permission will be granted.
7. Preparation for teaching often continues before and after the school day; therefore, teacher candidates are strongly advised not to hold employment during the clinical experience semester. If it becomes necessary, however, for the teacher candidate to be employed part-time, it is recommended that such employment be on the weekends so as not to interfere with clinical experiences. If it is determined by the Director and university clinical educator that the candidate's employment is interfering with clinical experience responsibilities, the teacher candidate assignment will be terminated for the semester. If it is determined by the Director and university clinical educator that the candidate's employment is interfering with clinical experience responsibilities, the teacher candidate's assignment will be terminated for the semester.
8. All teacher candidates must use the NKU email address.
9. Any changes of phone numbers, last names, and/or addresses must also be changed with the Registrar.

REMOVAL OF A TEACHER CANDIDATE FROM CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

1. If challenges arise in a clinical experience, face-to-face discussion between the P-12 clinical educator and the teacher candidate should take place immediately.
2. The 4-week evaluation by the P-12 clinical educator should be completed earlier if issues arise.
3. The university clinical educator should be notified and a discussion involving the teacher candidate, P-12 clinical educator, and university clinical educator should take place as soon as possible.
4. Depending on the comfort level of the P-12 clinical educator, the university clinical educator may be invited for the initial face-to-face discussion between the P-12 clinical educator and teacher candidate.
5. A written remediation plan to address the challenges discussed by the P-12 clinical educator should be created and implemented with input from the university clinical educator, the Director of Clinical Experiences, and Chair of the Department of Teacher Education, including specific written feedback to the teacher candidate. This should be signed by the P-12 clinical educator, university clinical educator, and Director of Clinical Experiences. The teacher candidate will receive a copy.
6. The plan should be monitored by the university clinical educator with a reasonable amount of time assigned for improvement. Notifications of progress should be sent to the Director of Clinical Experiences on a regular basis.
7. After a timely remediation plan, if the P-12 clinical educator is still concerned with the challenges discussed, the Director of Clinical Experiences may come to the school for an on-site evaluation.
8. If the teacher candidate is struggling with lesson planning and delivery, the Director of Clinical Experiences will observe a lesson and give feedback to the teacher candidate, fully discuss the observation with the teacher candidate, and collaboratively make a decision concerning the teacher candidate. This will include the university clinical educator.
9. If remediation is unsuccessful, there must be written notification, via email, from the P-12 clinical educator and the university clinical educator to the Director of Clinical Experiences with the principal and university clinical educator copied on the email, stating the reason/s he or she wants the teacher candidate removed. The reasons should be specific with examples of all areas of concerns. Phone calls will not suffice, as written verification is necessary.
10. The lesson and dispositions evaluations must be completed in Foliotek and discussed with the teacher candidate in a face-to-face conversation, not via email, before the teacher candidate will be removed.
11. The university clinical educator and/or Director of Clinical of Experiences should be present upon request by the P-12 clinical educator for the final discussion prior to the teacher candidate's removal.

Each situation is investigated thoroughly by the Director of Clinical Experiences. If a failing grade is given, a candidate may petition to repeat the clinical experiences. The petition must be filed in writing with the Director of Clinical Experiences.

Within ten (10) working days after the receipt of the petition, the Director of Clinical Experiences will take one of three actions:

- A. Approve the petition
- B. Deny the petition
- C. Approve the petition conditionally upon the successful completion of stated requirements

Candidates may appeal the decision of the review board to the Associate Dean and the Teacher Education Committee. Candidates will follow the appeals process outlined in the NKU Clinical Experience Handbook.

TERMINATION OF CLINICAL EXPERIENCE ASSIGNMENTS

Upon the recommendation of the P-12 clinical educator or principal, and university clinical educator or Director of Clinical Experiences, a teacher candidate's assignment may be terminated. When such termination is a result of an unsuccessful clinical experience, the teacher candidate will not automatically be given another option to commence a second assignment in another school that semester and the candidate will receive an F grade. The Director will make the decision on any subsequent assignments depending upon the candidate's ability to complete the required number of weeks in a particular school and the circumstances surrounding termination. If a candidate quits, walks out or leaves an assignment on their own decision, they will not be given another option to commence a second assignment in another school that semester.

EXTENDED CLINICAL EXPERIENCES

The clinical experience may be extended under special circumstances upon the recommendation of the university clinical educator, and/or the Director. The teacher candidate is expected to teach on a full-time basis for the assigned period. An “incomplete” grade may be given until the full assignment is completed if:

- A candidate is successful in one of the 8-week assignments, but unsuccessful in the 2nd 8-week assignment
- Illness, accident, or personal issues have caused the candidate to miss a substantial amount of days
- It is determined that a candidate needs additional time in the classroom to receive a passing grade
- An incomplete grade must be requested by the teacher candidate where there is a reasonable possibility that a passing grade will result upon completion of additional work. An incomplete grade must be completed by midterm of the next full semester; otherwise a grade of F is assigned.

Failure to complete all clinical experience requirements will result in the teacher candidate receiving an “F” in clinical experiences.

REPEATING CLINICAL EXPERIENCES

All teacher candidates must meet all requirements found on the contract signed prior to the clinical experiences. The following may be additional situations that could cause a teacher candidate to receive a failing grade in clinical experiences:

- If a P-12 clinical educator with the support of the Principal asks that a candidate be removed from the placement school for any reason
- If a university clinical educator recommends that a candidate be removed from the placement for reasons listed in the teacher candidate’s contract
- If a teacher candidate violates either KY or NKU’s Code of Ethics and Conduct (Appendices C & D) they have signed prior to clinical experiences.
- If a teacher candidate uses Facebook, Twitter, or any social network in an inappropriate manner.
- If remediation is unsuccessful per clinical experiences guidelines.

LEGAL STATUS OF TEACHER CANDIDATES

Several opinions have been issued by the Attorney General (Refer to Attorney General's Opinion Appendix I) regarding the legal status of teacher candidates. Although a teacher candidate may be competent and skillful, the law clearly states that a teacher candidate is not a teacher within the meaning of the law. Based on this information, teacher candidates may not legally take charge of a classroom in the absence of a teacher. The following policy statements will guide cooperating teacher and student teachers.

1. A teacher candidate may not be used as a substitute for a certified teacher or for his/her P-12 clinical educator.
2. A teacher candidate has no legal authority as a certified teacher either in or out of the classroom. It is necessary for the P-12 clinical educator to be physically present in the classroom at all times.
3. The teacher candidate may not legally assume responsibility for any activities (such as field trips, debate contests, etc.) that occur away from the assigned school.
4. A teacher candidate has a responsibility to perform his/her duties in a responsible manner. Therefore, a teacher candidate may be held liable for negligent acts or omissions. For this reason, teacher candidates are highly encouraged to purchase educator's liability insurance (KEA or KAPE) or other private policies (Appendix J), but the university does not make it mandatory, unless the student is participating in the COST international student teaching program. Some home owners' policies provide coverage for work related liability. It is the candidate's responsibility to understand the liability coverage that may be provided by individual policies.
5. A teacher candidate cannot be employed by the local board of education or receive compensation from said board for clinical experience services.
6. In accordance with the Kentucky School Personnel Code of Ethics, teacher candidates "...shall keep in confidence all information about students...: Teacher candidates need to uphold this commitment to confidentiality and will be required to sign a confidentiality statement.

Co-Teaching

- Kentucky Education Professional Standards Board (EPSB) has adopted a co-teaching approach to mentoring which was developed at St. Cloud State University in Minnesota.
- The co-teaching student teaching model has the P-12 clinical educator and teacher candidate together immediately so they can begin a professional teaching relationship. Lessons are planned and taught by both the P-12 clinical educator and teacher candidate, resulting in the teacher candidate being seen by students as a “real teacher” from the beginning of the experience.
- The most effective use of co-teaching comes when the teacher candidate and P-12 clinical educator collaboratively determining which lessons lend themselves to this style of teaching, and planning accordingly.

Co-Teaching consists of

- Two teachers (P-12 clinical educator and teacher candidates) working together with groups of students – sharing the planning, organization, delivery and assessment of instruction, as well as the physical space.
- Both teachers are actively involved and engaged in all aspects of instruction.

Co-Teaching in Kentucky will provide

- Kentucky Regulations have changed (16 KAR 5:040—Appendix A) Requires “...opportunities for the student teacher (teacher candidate) to assume major responsibility for the full range of teaching duties, including extended co-teaching experiences in a real school situation under the guidance of qualified personnel...”
- “...opportunities to develop and demonstrate the practical skills, knowledge, and professional dispositions essential to help all P-12 students learn and develop.”

CO-TEACHING STRATEGIES/APPROACHES

One Teach, One Observe

One teacher has primary instructional responsibility while the other gathers specific observational information on students or the (instructing) teacher.

One Teach, One Assist

One teacher has primary instructional responsibility while the other assists students' with their work, monitors behaviors, or corrects assignments.

Station Teaching

The co-teaching pair divides the instructional content into parts. Each teacher instructs one of the groups, groups then rotate or spend a designated amount of time at each station.

Parallel Teaching

In this approach, each teacher instructs half the students. The two teachers are addressing the same instructional materials using the same teaching strategies.

Supplemental Teaching

This strategy allows one teacher to work with students at their expected grade level, while the other teacher works with those students who need the information and /or materials extended or remediated.

Alternative (Differentiated) Teaching

Alternative teaching strategies provide two different approaches to teaching the same information. The learning outcome is the same for all students however the avenue for getting there is different.

Team Teaching

Well planned, team taught lessons, exhibit an invisible flow of instruction with no prescribed division of authority. Both teachers are actively involved in the lesson.

From a student's perspective, there is no clearly defined leader, as both teachers share the instruction, are free to interject information, and available to assist students and answer questions.

APPROPRIATE USE OF TECHNOLOGY

As technology changes in our fast growing society, questions surrounding the appropriate use of technology in the classroom need to be addressed.

It is our goal to maintain the integrity of the teaching profession by using technology to further the educational process of our students and the P-12 students they teach.

Appropriate use of a computer and cell phone will be determined by each local school district. Teacher candidates are in a transitional phase from student to the person of authority in the classroom. Regulations cannot touch on every situation, therefore one must make good decisions based upon regulations set forth by NKU and the policies of a given school district. It is the responsibility of the teacher candidate to request information and be knowledgeable of his/her school's policy concerning the appropriate use of technology during student teaching.

Regardless of the school district's policy, a teacher candidate must submit a written request for using a local district's computers, located on page 42 of this appendix. This form must be signed by the teacher candidate, the P-12 clinical educator, and the university clinical educator. This signed document should be kept in the possession of the university clinical educator to be used for reference.

A teacher candidate must understand the difference between a secure site, which is found in most businesses and schools, versus a public site. Teacher candidates must keep in mind that they are constantly under scrutiny and one must seek advice when accessing computer resources. REMEMBER that whatever work is done on a computer is the property of that school and can be scrutinized without warning.

The following are particular instances where the school district's authorized web site MAY be utilized by the teacher candidate with permission from the Director of Clinical Experiences and the P-12 clinical educator.

1. Submission of homework by students
2. Blogs with pedagogical content
3. Accessing blackboard assignments
4. Accessing educational journals

At the request of the PK-12 Clinical Educator

The following are examples of web sites or situations that should NEVER be utilized by a teacher candidate for the purposes of clinical experiences.

1. Facebook, Twitter, Tumblr, and other social media
3. eHarmony, or any comparable site
4. Networking
5. Personal e-mails, with the exception of checking and responding to e-mails sent by the Director of Clinical Experiences, with permission of the P-12 clinical educator
6. Any website of a social or entertainment nature

Appendix H

Regulations concerning the usage of cell phones are:

1. Text messaging, phoning, and all social networking is prohibited with P-12 students.
2. Cell phone should be turned off during classes. Messages can be checked only on personal time, before or after school, or during lunch.
3. Text messaging is prohibited during class time.
4. Ring tones should be removed and a professional greeting recorded.
5. Email and social networking is prohibited during class time.

For additional regulations, refer to section B of the COEHS Code of Ethics (Appendix C)

AN ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION

You have requested an opinion of this office on two questions which we will answer seriatim:

1. Whether KRS 161.042 (3) when it states that student teachers “shall have the same legal status and protection as a certified teacher employed within the school district...” means that said teacher would be subject to tort liability.

A student teacher may be held liable for his negligent acts or omissions the same as a regular teacher except that the student teacher's actions would have to be judged in the light of the fact that he is acting under the direction and supervision of a teacher. In OAG 74-883 we pointed out that the standard by which a teacher's actions are to be evaluated in regard to negligence is the same as for any other person, to wit: what a reasonable person would do under the circumstances.

2. Whether a student teacher can perform the services of a teacher in the absence of regular classroom teacher.

Our answer is negative. KRS 161.042 reads as follows:

A student teacher who is jointly assigned under agreement by a teacher education institution and a local board of education shall have the same legal status and protection as a certified teacher employed within the school district but shall be subject to the direction and supervision of the professional administrative and teaching staff of the school district.

Since the foregoing statute provides that a student teacher shall be subject to the direction and supervision of the teaching staff of the school district, we believe the legislative intent is that a regular teacher must be present in the classroom when the student teacher is teaching. We believe that a student teacher is not qualified or authorized to serve as a substitute teacher. A student teacher does not have a regular or an emergency certificate from the state from the State Department of Education and is therefore not authorized to teach except under the supervision of a certified teacher.

TEACHER CANDIDATE PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY

I have been informed of the advisability of obtaining civil liability insurance for coverage during clinical experiences and have been provided information below about how to obtain coverage by the Office of the Director of Clinical Experiences of Northern Kentucky University.

The insurance is through KAPE. You may contact KAPE directly at the following address, www.kentuckyteachers.org and click on the membership tab at the top, or you can get the forms through Sara Runge's office. The cost to join is $25.00.

It is the teacher candidate's responsibility to obtain professional liability insurance.
Students participating in the C.O.S.T. program must purchase civil liability insurance.

The teacher candidate may have liability insurance through home owner's policy or

The teacher candidate may waive responsibility for obtaining civil liability insurance.
