Is the activity a systematic investigation \textbf{AND} is the activity designed to develop or contribute to generalizable knowledge?

Is data being obtained about a living individual?

Will the data be obtained through \textit{intervention} or \textit{interaction}?

Will the data be identifiable or considered private?

Based on your responses, your study \textit{meets} the definition of human subjects research. Please submit an application through the Mentor IRB system.

Based on your responses, the project \textit{does not involve human subjects} and therefore most likely \textit{does not} require IRB review.